About the work

Almost thirty years after its entry into force, the CISG has become the law of international sales. In the meantime 89 states have ratified the CISG which make up for more than two third of the global trade. Already with its first edition the commentary written by leading international scholars and practitioners has established itself on the market as the first truly international commentary on the CISG taking into account the various legal settings in which the CISG is applied.

Praises for the 1st edition

'The Kröll/Mistelis/Perales Commentary is an important contribution to the rich literature on this vital topic – a volume that should be in every library that intends to address the CISG seriously, and a work that deserves to be part of even a basic collection on the Convention.'

Harry M. Flechtner, The Rabel Journal 78/4 (2014) 883

Eleven teams of student participants attended the first Willem C. Vis International Arbitration Moot in 1993/1994. Almost twenty-five years later, 338 teams from more than 70 countries plus a huge number of coaches and arbitrators gathered in what is now considered one of the largest international arbitration events in the world. The cases dealt with are based on an international sales transaction governed by CISG, including procedural issues of arbitration.

The book is written for participants of the Vis Moot. It provides the reader with step-by-step practical advice in order to maximize his or her Vis Moot experience. It explains registration and offers tips on finding and organizing the team, analysing the case, writing memoranda, presenting the case in the oral pleadings, and organizing the trips to Vienna or Hong Kong. Any student considering taking part in the so-called 'Moot Experience' will find the information needed to make the Vis Moot a unique lifetime experience:

- Chapter 1 – The Vis Moot: A Lifetime Experience
- Chapter 2 – The Vis Moot: Facts and Figures
- Chapter 3 – How to Start
- Chapter 4 – How to Write Effective Memoranda
- Chapter 5 – How to Present Your Case before the Arbitral Tribunal
- Chapter 6 – Seven Days in Vienna and Hong Kong
- Chapter 7 – Where to Go from Here
- Chapter 8 – Views from the Dachgeschoss
- Chapter 9 – Views from Around the World

General overview

This Commentary annotates the Convention in a clear structure, article by article, prerequisite by prerequisite. The reader will quickly find how each requirement under the respective provision has been understood and how it should be interpreted.

From the reviews

'No doubt, this commentary will become a standard reference book for both academics and practitioners in the field of arbitration ...'

Dr Klaus Sachs, Munich, NJW 2013, 519

About the work

This handbook brings together the top international sales law scholars from twenty-three countries to review the Convention on Contracts for International Sale of Goods (CISG) and its role in the unification of global sales law. To this extent, it provides a systematic and practice-oriented analysis of the rules, subject-matter and terminology. It is suitable for academia, practitioners and advanced students allowing for a comprehensive and profound overview of the relevant international and national provisions also considering practical issues and soft-law.

In particular, the international and comparative approach can be seen by taking into account the rules on International Sale of Goods (CISG), Principles of European Private Law (PECL), Principles of International Commercial Contracts (UNIDROIT) and the proposal of a Common European Sales Law. Moreover, it provides an overview of the differences of sales law in common and civil law as well as between several major legal systems.

About the authors

Dr Larry DiMatteo is a Professor of Law at the University of Florida. Dr André Janssen is a Professor of Law and a senior research fellow at the Centre for European Private and the Centre of International Trade Law in Münster. Dr Ulrich Magnus is a Professor of Law (em.) at the University of Hamburg. Dr Reiner Schulze is a Professor of Law at the University of Münster.
